GERMAN PEACE DELEGATION HOPES TO WRECK ALLIED PEACE MACHINE

CONSERVATIVE GERMAN SAYS FRANCE NEED NOT FEAR GERMAN MILITARISM AS GERMANY HAS NO MILITARISM NOW

Note—The following interview represents the German Conservative attitude toward the present situation in their country. The radicals' viewpoint will be presented tomorrow in an interview with Emil Barth, one of their leaders.

BY FRANK J. TAYLOR
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1919, By United Press)
Berlin, April 20.—President Haverstein, of the Reichsbank, financial authority of his country, today described to the United Press, the situation confronting Germany as it appears to a conservative. Summed up this view point is this:

The allies, especially America, hold Germany's future in their hands. They must furnish Germany with credit, with German labor as sole security.

Germany can pay a reasonable, but not an excessive indemnity.

France need not fear German militarism, as the government cannot even defend itself against strikes.

German workmen are "absolutely crazy."

They will only go to work when their need becomes great.

Germany must abolish socialism.

Only a quick peace and America's help can avert bolshevism.

But a famous capitalist, severely plain little office with the autographed photographs of Wilhelm Hohenzollern and other former Prussian royalty staring down upon us from the walls. He is a quiet, modest man, and in dress and general appearance would seem to be anything but a famous capitalist.

"Germany can carry tremendous internal and external debts, if the entente's demands are not excessive," he said. "We cannot pay the figures France demands. They are outrageous. We cannot stand for robbery of the Saar mines in addition to the loss of Alsace-Lorraine. It would leave us without materials. But we cannot expect much from the Latins. They are not large minded."

"France need not fear German militarism. Germany has no militarism now, she cannot even crush the strikes. Look at Munich. The entente is responsible for Germany's future. The indemnities must be low."

Asked if German financiers have any plan for inducing the workmen to resume their posts since the banks are recognized as the backbone of industry, Haverstein replied:

"The banks must support the industries more than ever. They are toppling as the result of losses from the strikes. We have no plans for quieting the workmen. They are absolutely crazy. Their demands are outrageous. We cannot deal with insane people. The workmen ask too much. Wages are too high now. Labor is greedy and avaricious. The only thing that will make labor go to work is need. When that becomes great they will return to their posts. It all depends upon the entente. The way to settle the problem is for the entente to give us a quick, good peace, send us materials and food and grant us credit. This would put Germany on her feet again. "We must have imports to get industry going. We must pay most of our gold to get food for our people. We cannot pay out all of it, however, else the mark will drop in value to nothing at all. It is thirty pfennings now. It will be raised to fifty if peace is favorable, and to sixty if America lends us credit. Then would come the long slow grind to make the mark reach normal."

"Since we cannot pay out the remaining 1,700,000,000 marks gold that we have the entente must grant us credit. We cannot expect anything from France and little from England. Hence America must lend us sufficient credit to resume trade. The only security we can put up for credit is Germany's labor."

RED CROSS BUSINESS MEETING IS CALLED FOR WEDNESDAY

Xenia women interested in work for devastated France, are invited to attend a business meeting which is to be held in the Red Cross room in the basement of the court house Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Miss Ella Fogg, county chairman, and Mrs. L. O. Reed, secretary treasurer of the devastated France committee, both from Yellow Springs, and other members of the organization from Yellow Springs will be at the meeting, and they wish to meet local women interested in helping the people living in the devastated areas of France.

Xenia women, for the great part, do not seem to be properly impressed with the need of the work they are being implored to do for these stricken French people. Instead of a handful of people engaging in the work, there should be a large number willing to devote a few hours each week to the cause.

The simple task of quilt making is that in which the local committee is engaged. A request for material from which to cut quilt patches is being made. In house cleaning time, through which the majority of people are now passing, women should go through their scrap bags and see if there are not some cotton pieces which can be spared for this cause. They will be gratefully received.

PAUL A. FULLER BACK IN OLD POSITION

Paul H. Fuller, who was recently discharged from the army, and who before his term of enlistment was connected with the Fuller Ice Cream and Soda Water Company, of this city, has again become affiliated with that organization and with his father-in-law, N. J. Lewis, of Wilmington, has opened a branch office in that city.

The Wilmington office will be located on West Locust street. It is the plan of the branch managers to introduce local made ice cream and pop to Wilmington people, and to carry a complete line of both for the Wilmington trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller recently returned from Michigan, where Mr. Fuller was a sergeant in the Motor Transportation service at Camp Custer.

ORDER RESTORED IN CITY OF VIENNA

Berne, April 21.—Reports from Vienna late yesterday declared officially that order had been restored in that city. Gen. Segre was reported to have accepted the "apologise" of the radical demonstrators.

For a few hours Friday, the city was reported to have been in control of the "soldiers and workmen's council" which refused to recognize either the socialist or bolshevik faction. The police declare they have conclusive evidence that the disturbances, which resulted in a few casualties were incited by communists from Budapest.

EMPTY SEPULCHER THEME OF SERMON

"The Empty Sepulcher," was the theme of the sermon of Rev. D. D. Dodds at the morning service at the First United Presbyterian church. A prayer and praise service was held by the Sunday school under the leadership of the Superintendent, Herman Eavey. The congregation united with the Reformed church for the evening service.

BARBED WIRE AND BARRICADES USED IN BERLIN STREET FIGHTING

Above is shown moving vans placed across street in Berlin by Spartacans as barricade against government troops. Below, barbed wire entanglements built by government troops on Kurfurstens Strasse before the Hotel Eden, headquarters of the government troops.

Barbed wire, which played such an important part in the defensive fighting in the war, is still called into play for defensive purposes. The government troops protecting Berlin and other parts of Germany against the Bolshevik mobs, use it to protect important points, including their headquarters in Berlin. Street fighting continues in the city. Spartacides also take measures to protect themselves as the upper photo shows. Moving vans, placed across the street, hinder advance of Ebert soldiers.

SOLDIERS WILL NOT TOLERATE HUN MUSIC

New York, April 21.—German numbers were hastily stricken from the program of a concert and ball of the Master Bakers' Association, of New York, Sunday night, when the concert hall was rushed by more than 100 soldiers and sailors, who threatened to "clean up the place."

Police reserves and a detachment of the provost guard were summoned and ejected the uniformed men, but not until a promise had been obtained from directors of the entertainment that no German music would be rendered.

The soldiers and sailors who invaded the hall were merely the "skirmishers" of a party of nearly 1,000 uniformed men outside, who were assembled when a telephone call was received at the Navy club apprising members that a "German concert" was being held on the eve of the Victory Liberty loan campaign.

When the "skirmishers" reached the hall the strains of a German song greeted their ears. Seizing programs, the invaders discovered that seven songs in the German language were scheduled as against five in English.

SACRAMENT OF LORD'S SUPPER IS OBSERVED

The Easter spirit featured all the services at the First Presbyterian church. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed in the morning, and ten persons united with the church. At night the choir rendered a special musical program which was enjoyed by a large number of people. At the morning and evening service the pastor, Rev. McCracken gave a sermon based upon the Easter theme.

MUSIC RENDERED WAS COMPOSED BY CHURCH RECTOR

Most of the music of the beautiful Easter service at Christ Episcopal church yesterday, was the composition of the rector, Rev. John D. Herron, who is well known in the diocese as a composer of sacred music. His communion service in a flat was sung by the vested choir. Solo parts were sung by Mrs. Charles Adair, Miss Frances Lloyd, Mrs. Meda Gowdy and a young man from the O. S. & S. O. Home who took tenor parts very beautifully.

For the offertory selection a violin number, Handel's Largo, was played by Marcus Shoup, Jr., accompanied on the organ by his sister, Miss Pauline Shoup. The church was beautifully decorated in green and white. The money for the floral decorations was the gift of J. E. Williams of St. Louis, uncle of the Misses Sarah and Eleanor Williams. A sermon on the Resurrection theme was preached by Dr. Herron.

TELEPHONE STRIKE IN NEW ENGLAND IS OFF

Boston, April 21.—The telephone strike that has crippled New England service since last Tuesday was settled yesterday at a conference of strikers and company officials, according to a formal announcement by the company. Following the conference, which lasted for eight hours, a meeting of the General Strike Committee was called for 8 o'clock tonight. It was understood the operators would return to work at once. "An understanding has been reached," said the announcement, "by which telephone employees will return to work and the service will be restored pending detailed consideration of wage schedules."

OVER FIVE HUNDRED CASUALTIES AMONG YANKS IN RUSSIA

Archangel, April 21.—Since landing on the Archangel front last September, the Americans have suffered 528 casualties. Of these, 196 were fatalities, there having died of disease or been killed nine officers and 187 men. The men wounded consist of 12 officers and 320 men. The losses of the Americans on the North Russian front during the last month have been extremely light, as most of the recent fighting has been done either by the newly formed Russian troops, who are campaigning bravely, or the British.

According to the latest information, which is believed to be authentic, the Bolsheviks have given the freedom of Moscow up to 9 o'clock at night to Malcolm V. Arnold, of London, Ohio, and Bryant R. Ryall, of Bloomfield, N. J., two Young Men's Christian Association secretaries, captured at Bolshevik-occupied Russia by way of Stockholm three of the 11 American soldiers known to have been captured.

A total of 43 American soldiers are missing, but outside of these 11 men, and perhaps one other who was known to be wounded severely in a hospital near Bolshevik-occupied, the others are still unaccounted for.

BEAUTIFUL SERVICES AT ST. BRIGID'S

Following the gloom of Holy Week, Easter morning services at St. Brigid's church were very beautiful. The somberness of the last few days was absent, and the altars and chancel were bright with lilies, other cut flowers, palms and ferns. Several hundred persons received Holy Communion at the early Mass when the children's choir rendered special Easter music. At the 9:30 o'clock Mass, the choir rendered special music, with a very beautiful offertory selection, "Regina Coeli, Alleluia," sung by George P. Lampert. Sermons on the Resurrection were preached by the pastor, Rev. Albert Burke.

THREAT TO TURN GERMANY OVER TO BOLSHEVIKI IS EXPECTED FROM THE HUNS

Berlin, April 20.—The German government was reported today to have decided not to accept the peace treaty—without waiting to learn the terms.

Both the cabinet and the foreign office are openly defiant, figuring the allies are not in a position to retaliate.

The radicals are demanding acceptance of any terms submitted by the allies, but the cabinet now declares final decision rests with the national assembly, and not with a plebiscite.

The General opinion prevails today that the government has deliberately misinterpreted the allied invitation to Versailles, hoping to provoke a crisis that will enable the government to blame the allies if the cabinet is overthrown by the radicals.

BY FRANK J. TAYLOR.
Berlin, April 20.—(Via Paris April 21.)—The German peace delegation is going to Paris, confidently expecting to wreck the allied peace machine. This is plainly evident today from statements in the Berlin Press, as well as the attitude of the foreign office.

The delegation is expected to leave for Paris on Tuesday. Some reports have been circulated that the government may hold a plebiscite to decide whether the allied terms will be accepted.

Oddly enough the Germans plan to employ the same tactics which brought America into the war two years ago. The foreign office theory is that the allies will not call Germany's bluff if the delegates announce their determination to refuse to sign the terms. The diplomats here figure the allies will not and cannot retaliate effectively if the German representatives balk—the same as Count Von Bernstorff and other members of the foreign office crowd calculated in the spring of 1917.

The new republic has entrusted its destinies to a group of diplomats who have not hanged in any way from those who directed Germany's policies before the revolution.

"We believe the terms reported from Paris are just entente propaganda to prepare the German people for the hardest possible peace so they will appreciate the terms actually offered, which undoubtedly will be much easier," a member of the foreign office told the United Press.

"It is clever peace propaganda, but, fortunately, we see through it."

It has been reported that the Germans plan to tear up the peace terms and refuse to sign them, and then make counter proposals according to German ideas, threatening to turn

Germany over to the bolsheviks if the allies still stand pat. The foreign office is expected to frighten the allies into believing Germany will pay no indemnities if the bolsheviks get control of the country.

This is purely bluff, because the foreign office has absolutely nothing to do with Bolshevism in Germany. Neither can the allies be blamed for the present conditions in Germany since the present government is deliberately ignoring the unrest, saying it will disappear as soon as the allies grant a favorable peace. The fact is, Germany's internal troubles will no more disappear as the result of peace than they faded when it was announced that allied food had arrived.

Most of the German people say the present government will not last anyway, hence if it threatens to quit if peace is made in accordance with German ideas, it will be an excuse, and nothing more. It is safe to estimate that the majority of the Germans favor accepting any peace, but the foreign office is willing to endanger the entire people for the sake of reviving Germany's "independence." Militarily and capitalistically.

The radicals who probably would overthrow the government in case of a refusal to accept the peace terms, are ready to sign any peace—and then make the royalists pay their bill. They have developed plans to put this into effect. They are enthusiastically looking forward to early May, anticipating events will enable them to win control and carry out a real revolution—the radicals say Germany has not yet undergone an actual political and social overturn—beginning a "spring house cleaning with socialism" and social overturn—beginning with the broom and bolshevism.

German ideas, threatening to turn Germany over to the bolsheviks if the allies still stand pat. The foreign office is expected to frighten the allies into believing Germany will pay no indemnities if the bolsheviks get control of the country.

At this juncture Senator Frank E. Whittemore, the majority leader, announced that if the Senate desired to honor its absent member it should pass his bill relating to the Xenia Home. No member had threatened to oppose the suggestion, and unanimous consent was obtained to relieve the committee of the bill and take it up out of its order. The bill passed without a dissenting vote, and thus the majority accomplished the first half of its program to legislate a Democrat out of office.

VICTORY LOAN DRIVE STARTS QUIETLY HERE

The Victory Loan drive got quietly under way in Greene county today with a large force of workers on the job. There will be nothing spectacular about the drive in Greene county, but when the final whistle blows old Greene county will be found on the right side of the balance sheet. As has been the case in all previous loans there has been very little red fire and fireworks in connection with the drive but in all of them the county went "over the top" with flying colors. Judge H. L. Smith, chairman of the campaign, is confident that the county will do its duty this time as in the past.

AUTO STOLEN FROM IN FRONT OF CHURCH

A Ford automobile belonging to J. W. Baughn of Dayton avenue, was stolen from in front of the First M. E. Church, on West Second street, Sunday night, while Mr. Baughn's son, Paul Baughn, who had the car out, was attending the services in the church.

Mr. Baughn did not discover his loss until the services closed, and it is thought by that time the thieves had made a complete getaway.

Chief of Police Canaday was notified at once and is conducting an investigation and neighboring cities have been notified to be on the lookout for the thief or thieves.

The car was a touring model in good condition. Mr. Baughn parked it in front of the church to attend the services. There were eight gallons of gasoline in the tank, which would permit the robber or robbers to get out of reach before being forced to stop.

The car was taken from among a number of other machines parked near the church, Sunday night, the joint services held attracting a number of church goers, who left their machines parked along each side of Second street.

Great Medicine

Made From Corn Silk—Excites Favorable Comment.

Kidney and Bladder Ailments Banished By Few Doses.

Corn Silk! The same "silk" you see protruding from the husk of corn, produces a fine medicine for kidney and bladder irregularities, when compounded with other simple drugs as in Balmwort Tablets.

Balmwort Tablets contains a powerful extract of corn silk, which quickly relieves the inflammation and congestion that causes such distress as pains in back and hips, rheumatic twinges, nervousness, severe headaches, accompanied by frequent desire to eliminate, followed by scalding, burning sensation. The patient is compelled to arise frequently to relieve pressure, even though a scanty flow follows. The eyes appear "bloodshot," the sleep is restless, and sometimes fever, followed by chills, cause great unrest. It is unwise to neglect such symptoms, when a few doses of Balmwort Tablets can be taken for relief. Altee Trobough, 5627 South Twenty-fourth street, Omaha, Neb., writes: "I have used one tube of your Balmwort Tablets and find that they are the best I have ever used for kidney and bladder trouble."

WAS YOUR BOY OVER THERE

Was your boy over along the French front when the Americans finally got away on their world famous drive against the St. Mihiel sector?

And did you happen to know that he was in one of the attacking divisions?

Then what about the casualty lists? Did you watch them?

Of course you did. You used to turn first to the sporting page, the market page, the stock reports, or whatever section you were most intimately interested in. But that was before your boy got into the fighting. Right then you lost interest in your old associations. Your whole concern was the safety of that boy.

You didn't care a hang any longer who won the pennant, who picked off the championship, what the price of May wheat might be, or how the most promising stock on the market might be selling.

Your boy's safety right then was the biggest consideration on earth.

Let's hope he came through all right. And incidentally let's remember that Uncle Sam was largely responsible for that. For it was the magnitude of Uncle Sam's army and his preparations that forced the Germans to quit cold.

Chances are that had the fight gone on until now there wouldn't have been 25 per cent of the men in those first line divisions on their feet today. War department experts estimate that it would have meant a casualty list of hundreds of thousands.

And your boy might have been in that list.

Pretty soon you are going to be asked to subscribe to the Victory Liberty Loan.

Remember, when the bond man calls that the proceeds of this issue is to go largely to paying the cost of that magnificent preparation that took the fight out of the Germans. That stopped hostilities. That probably saved your boy.

Then measure your purchase by your gratitude.

MORE CORN PRODUCED
WHEN LIME IS USED

Corn yields have regularly been increased from 10 to 12 bushels annually covering a period of years, from lime costing about $5 for application, once in five years, at the Ohio Experiment Station.

The effect of lime has been particularly apparent on clover, as this crop is one of the first to suffer from deficiency in the calcium content of soil. When clover begins to fail it is generally a sign that the soil needs lime, soil experts say.

The increase for all crops in a five year rotation at the Ohio station due to liming has been about $16.50 an acre, or more than 200 per cent profit above the cost of the lime.

Lime may be applied in the spring, after the land is plowed for corn, but specialists say that lime should never be mixed with manure or fertilizers, nor plowed under. From one to two tons of ground limestone is used per acre.

Rheumatism Has Never Been Cured by Liniments or Lotions, and Never Will Be.

You never knew of Rheumatism—that most painful source of suffering—being cured by liniments, lotions or other external applications. And you will never see anything but temporary relief afforded by such makeshifts.

But why be satisfied with temporary relief from the pangs of pain which are sure to return with increased severity, when there is permanent relief within your reach? Science has proven that Rheumatism is a disordered condition of the blood. How then, can satisfactory results be expected from any treatment that does not reach the blood,

YANK STILL WEARS HIS STEEL HELMET

Sergt. D. Hutchison

Most of the American soldiers laid aside their steel helmets when the armistice was signed, but Sergt. D. Hutchison and the men in his branch of the service are still wearing the metal "lids." He is a diver enlisted in the inland water transportation company, an outfit formerly known as the fifty seventh U. S. engineers. The company is building, operating and repairing barges which are used to relieve freight congestion along Uncle Sam's lines of communication in France.

Straight Tip.

Just before they arrived in San Francisco the "Grizzlies" listened to a little lecture from Colonel Mullally, during which he said, with a twinkle in his eyes: "Boys, if you're looking for good cooks to marry, my advice is that you pick out homely girls. My observation is that as a rule all that the pretty girls know about dough is how to spend it."

THE RUSSIAN PROBLEM.

Mr. Lloyd George said in his London speech that it was his earnest conviction that "military intervention in Russia would be the greatest act of stupidity." The word "stupidity" was probably not casually chosen. He is looking at the subject from the British point of view and was not discussing for the moment whether or not "military intervention" would be good or bad for Russia. Britain has enough to do in these bitter days of exhaustion and painful convalescence to take care of herself. She is not coveting any Good Samaritan opportunities.

A military expedition into Russia which would be strong enough to upset the Bolshevik regime and impose or protect a substitute government would call for an immense number of men, a vast sum of money and patience beyond the precedent of Job. Doctors differ as to what extent it could calculate on the loyal support of the Russian people. The persecuted middle class would be with it to the last man left alive; but an alarm among the peasants that they might be required to disgorge the land they have acquired from the dividend estates would very likely send them all back into the arms of the Bolsheviks. It is a delicate and doubtful problem.

FAVORS GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.

Denial that railroads have made a poorer showing under government control than they would have recorded under private management was made before the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association at Chicago Thursday by Walter D. Hines, director general of railroads.

"Had private ownership been continued through the war emergency there would have been disaster," said Mr. Hines.

"The unfavorable financial showing was inevitable. No business in this country is normal. Business is falling off rapidly, and we cannot as rapidly adjust our operation of the roads. High cost of materials, increased operating expenses and inexperienced workers contributed to this state of affairs. Not only were our experienced men taken, but we had to equip and operate railroads in France."

INTERESTING TO MI-LADY.

With the reopening of the markets of the world a big revival of opal mining in Mexico has begun. This is one of the few industries where foreign capital has not found a foothold. Virtually all the producing opal mines are owned by Mexicans.

Although opals are known to exist in more or less abundant quantities in other localities of Mexico, the Queretaro district for nearly sixty years has been the chief source of supply.

No systematic method of mining opals has been carried on. The owners of the properties have been content to carry on operations in a desultory way. When the demand for the stones was good and prices high many of them were turned out. It is from Queretaro that the opal supply for the United States comes chiefly.

The grinding and polishing is nearly all done in Queretaro and San Juan del Rio. The mines are all owned by local syndicates which have their own grinders and polishers.

Most of the best-quality stones eventually find their way to dealers in the City of Mexico, and are marketed by them in other countries.

HELPS HOME INDUSTRY.

The values of merchandise brought into the United States from Europe has fallen steadily year by year since 1912, plunging below $200,000,000 in the eight months ended February 28, 1919, and indicating plainly Europe's lack of exportable material. A compilation by the National City Bank shows that imports from Europe in the current fiscal year are the smallest in twenty years despite the abnormally high prices for all articles.

INDIA WANTS OUR GOODS.

The India International Company, of Bombay, has opened offices in New York and it has begun to throw out its lines for buying vast quantities of American-made merchandise for India. The company will not sell any of the commodities it purchases from American manufacturers in this country, but will carry on a large export business.

Various commodities that are to be bought in the United States, according to officials of the company, are milling machinery, hosiery, underwear, piece goods, knit goods and notions. Milton B. McIntosh, who is to head the New York offices, said the company was not a commission house and was buying strictly for itself. It will import hides, skins, brass goods, ivory, gold lace and oriental rugs from India into this country.

HANDY SHADE TREES.

Early indications in the English walnut districts of California forecast the production, during the present season, of the largest crop in the history of the industry. It is not improbable that the harvest will be worth as much as $12,000,000.

The 1918 crop broke all records both for production and price, and yet last season's crop was not a particularly heavy one. In fact, 1918 was the year for a light crop, and the heavy tonnage is said to have been due to the fact that blight was not prevalent. The crop amounted to 37,000,000 pounds, worth approximately $11,500,000.

A Sacred Tooth.

There's a sacred tooth in the world; it's in Kandy. And when you come to think of it that is a perfectly natural place for a tooth to be. It is in the temple of Kandy, in Ceylon, where reposes the sacred tooth of Buddha. At Buddha's death there were 80 cities to dispute the possession of his remains. At length they decided on a compromise, so the body was divided and the isle of Ceylon fell heir to his tooth and his left collarbone. At the time of the funeral Kalinga, an Indian, took possession of the sacred tooth and had it enshrined at Puro, where it reposed for eight years. Then came an invasion of the country by the Mohammedans. The daughter of a certain king concealed the sacred relic in her hair and carried it to Ceylon, where it has remained since A. D. 911.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE
NEIL IS ANGRY WITH BARBARA FOR MEDDLING.

CHAPTER LXVII.

I never closed my eyes all night. If his business was all as it should be why was Neil angry because I tried to see his papers? I had not meant to be meddlesome, simply to find something to refute what people were saying about him—if Lorraine Morton and those women I heard talking in the store were telling the truth. And it was strange they should say the same things Mr. Frederick had said so long before.

I recalled the startled unbelief in Neil's voice when he replied to me after I had told him people were saying unkind things about him, and tried to extract a bit of comfort from it. Surely if he had been doing anything very wrong he would not have been so surprised—or so angry. It was I who had made him cross, not the malicious gossip of people who knew nothing of him, his goodness, his generosity. Perhaps I had done wrong to go to his office. It had been done on impulse, because I loved him. I would make him understand that, and he would not be so angry.

Then I wondered what the book-keeper and the yellow haired stenographer would tell him. I hoped they would not exaggerate my actions. I knew I had acted terribly disappointed, especially when I went back the second time to look at the mail. I had said nothing of that to Neil, he might be still more angry if they told him. All kinds of wild ideas came into my head. To telephone them not to say anything to my husband about my second visit to the office—to tell him myself in the morning trusting that he would be over his anger by that time, even to deny having gone back if he was still cross, and they told him. But most of that long night I spent trying to convince myself that nothing I had heard derogatory to Neil was so—could possibly be true.

I rose early but he was in his bath even then. I imagined he had not slept. I knew he had not undressed because he had not come after his night clothes. He probably had thrown himself on the divan all dressed and got what rest he could. I felt so guilty. He had been traveling, a thing he hated. He never slept well on the train, and was always so glad to get home.

"There's nothing like a good bed," he used to say, "I'd never sleep on a train if I could possibly help it."

Knowing how he felt, made me even more guiltily conscience that I had kept him from his rest.

"Good morning," he said curtly, when he came down to breakfast. I had hurried, and was down before him.

"Good morning," I returned, trying to speak naturally and brightly, and making a dismal failure of it, but lifting my face for his usual morning kiss. He just brushed my cheek with his lips, then sat down and busied himself in his paper. I was uncomfortably conscious of his displeasure, and also afraid he might say something before the servants, a habit which had grown upon him. When we were first married he had been careful to discuss nothing of a personal nature before a servant, and I laid the growth of the habit now to what Lorraine had told me of his carelessness at Blanche Orton's, so giving her servants the chance to talk.

I watched him narrowly as I poured his coffee, but he never raised his eyes from the paper. Next I asked him a question about how he would like his eggs.

"I don't care!" he snapped. My eyes filled. He was still angry. But I would try again. I must placate him before he went down to the office. So I asked:

"Did you have a successful trip?"

"Successful enough!"

"Please, Neil, don't be so short with me. I have been so lonesome while you were away."

"You seem to have kept pretty busy, meddling with what don't concern you. I can't see that you have been very lonesome."

"Oh, Neil!"—the butler left the room a moment, "please be nice to me."

"I will when you are also nice, as you call it. If you think it the part of a lady to play the spy, I don't!" He flung from the table and from the house.

Parrots Which Save Life.

A goose once saved ancient Rome from destruction at the hands of its enemies, and the parrots of Mexico, particularly those of the Tierra Caliente, the hot country along the coast, have saved thousands of lives in real fact by giving warning of approaching seismic disturbances. Whenever there is a heavy storm coming the parrots silently take to the highest and thickest foliated trees in the jungle, but, when an earthquake is pending within the next few hours, the parrots seek a bare, open, level space and alight on the ground. The parrot being exclusively an arboreal bird, this is unusual in itself; but, in addition to this, the birds, which as a rule are unbearably noisy, become suddenly silent, emitting now and again a peculiar cry which they use at no other time.

DR. S. D. FESS IN DEBATE IN DAYTON

Dayton, April 21.—Considerable interest is being manifested in the joint debate at the First Reformed church this evening, when two of Ohio's best known congressmen, Hon. Simeon D. Fess and Hon. Warren G. Harding, will discuss both sides of the league of nations. The former will deal with the league as it should have been formed, while the latter will uphold it in its present form, and will also defend President Wilson's famous 14 points. These two orators were secured for the debate this evening by the Men's club of the church, and announcement is made that the general public is invited. A chicken supper will be enjoyed at 6 o'clock, and following this the audience will assemble in the main auditorium of the church for the debate. Attorney Virgil Schoeffer will preside.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS GLEE CLUB

The Ohio Wesleyan Glee Club pleased a large audience at the Opera House Saturday night when it appeared under the auspices of the Sophomore Class of the High School. Particularly pleasing was the singing of Miss Ruth Rhodeheaver and the reading of Prof. Charles M. Newcomb. The "Stringers" a jazz quintet, was also a feature of the program that made a decisive hit with the audience. The "Stringers" included H. D. Davenport, tenor; C. J. Rosebrook, saxophone; N. J. Dicken, piano; James E. Brecken, mandolin, and J. Amos Burgess mandolin and leader. The outfit presented a quality of lively music that was irresistible and the playing of the pianist, N. J. Dicken, repeatedly brought the applause of the house.

The twenty-two members of the club were splendid in their chorus work and sang in perfect harmony under the direction of Prof. Guy E. McLean. The club is led by Paul S. Craig and Frank A. Hoffman is the piano accompanist. The club is under the management of Daniel B. Heffelfinger and Gerald T. Hodge.

Leonidas.

Leonidas, one of the Spartan kings, is placed by historians among that group of ancient leaders who perished honorably in the cause of courage and patriotic devotion. In 480 B. C. the army under Leonidas was entrusted with the defense of Thermopylae. To withhold the land forces of the Persians the army was stationed at the Pass of Thermopylae, between the bay of Malis and Mount Calidromus. For two days the Persians hurled in vain against the Spartan position and all efforts were repulsed. Ephialtes, "the Judas of Greece," revealed to Xerxes, the Persian leader, a secret pass over the mountains by which the Spartans were attacked from the rear as well as the front. Preferring death to surrender and dishonor, Leonidas and his men perished in the pass.

Artificial Marble.

Artificial marble for fancy articles is made by soaking plaster of paris in a solution of alum, baking it in an oven, and then grinding it to a powder. In using, mix it with water, and to produce the clouds and veins stir in any dry color desired; it will become very hard, and is susceptible of a high polish.

THIS CAT EXPERT ANGLER

English Writer Tells of Feline That Catches Fine Trout Without Bait or Line.

Cats have a passion for fish and will hover about a room plausively mewing long after the piscine substance has gone and only the smell is left; but it is not generally known that they are expert anglers, says a writer in the Family Journal (London). A Hampshire sportsman whose garden bordered on a well-stocked stream stated that his cat takes more trout out of it than he does. All fish, love to bask in the sun and, taking advantage of this on fine summer days, Mr. Tom lies in ambush, concealed in the reedy grass bordering some bright pebbly shallow. He needs neither rod nor line; unlimited patience is his whole stock in trade. Not a move does he make, his quivering tail merely rustling the slender reeds as if stirred with the gentlest southern breeze. Presently there is a splash and a flounder, and a fine, fat trout, bursting with condition, comes flapping up to the shallow for its morning sun bath. For an instant only it lies there contentedly gasping in the soft, warm air, but in that instant the four-footed angler has made his spring and fastened his claws firmly in the fish's shimmering back.

WHY AVERAGE MAN WORKS

Labor May Be Its Own Reward, but the Home Is Thing That Inspires Him.

The 8:10 Sausalito boat was disgorging its crowd of Marin county commuters in the morning. Said one commuter to another, according to the San Francisco Bulletin: "I've timed this crowd getting off the boats. It takes more than twice as long to get them off at the ferry, when they are on their way to work, as it does to land them at Sausalito at night, when they are on their way home."

In spite of sundry wholesome precepts about labor being its own reward, the fact is that we do not live to work, but that we work to live. The little brown house back in the manzanita trees, with the porch lights burning, the rush of little feet, the welcoming arms, the good dinner, the books and the pipe—this is life. These are the things eternal to which the eager shuffling feet are hastening. They make and motivate the things temporal toward which move the lagging footsteps of the morning.

Joy in your work? Of course, but the fact remains that you wouldn't build those skyscrapers and string those railroads around the world and send big ships into far seas if it wasn't for the "wife and kids."

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. adv

Music is restful. Music is a solace; it soothes; it comforts; it cheers; it puts one "on one's feet." This is doubly true when one produces music for himself. To produce music for oneself doubles its enjoyment—and it is right at this point we want to speak to men about the Kingston.

Here is a player-piano, one of the flowers of the great Rudolph Wurlitzer Company's line.

It is a player-piano so simple in its playing parts that you can within fifteen minutes practice, produce far better music than the average hand performer.

is the pre-arranged price of the Kingston Player-Piano. This superlative instrument can be procured only during this sale, and when our limited allotment is sold, it will never be offered for sale again on these terms. Terms will be arranged to suit your convenience, your payments being extended over a period of 130 weeks.

With an hour's practice you can play well.

Within a day or so you can play with marked expression, bringing out every desired tone effect, like the most capable pianists.

Operas, famous waltzes and old songs will roll out under your guidance, better played by far than if played by hand by the average hand performer. Here, then is rest, solace and inspiration.

And if you men realized what it really meant to you, every Kingston player-piano remaining on our floors would be snapped up tomorrow.

Now we had but 20 Kingstons to begin with. Ten of these have already been sold.

These instruments are being distributed at $495 each. Examine them. Examine them critically, and you will quickly see that they could easily bring $650, in comparison with other player-pianos selling at $650.

Therefore you have the distinct advantage of a $155 saving in procuring one to say nothing of the distinction attached to owning one of the finest player-pianos ever built.

Terms and Conditions of Sale

While the price of the Kingston is exceedingly low—$495—as compared to the prevailing player-piano prices, the one big stroke of liberal dealing in this sales plan is giving purchasers the advantage of the low cash price, with the privilege of taking 130 weeks' time to make their payments. This means that you make a small convenient payment, in cash, at the time you make your selection, and divide the balance into equal monthly, quarterly or semi-annual payments, extending over a period of 130 weeks, and still enjoy the $495 price.

Every Kingston Player-Piano is sold under the unreserved guarantee of "FULLEST SATISFACTION—THE PRIVILEGE OF EXCHANGING OR YOUR MONEY BACK."

1. Your money back within 30 days.
2. Privilege to exchange at full price at any time within six months.
3. Unconditional and unreserved guarantee for five years from date of purchase.

NOTE

Included with the Kingston Player-Piano, without extra cost, is a bench to match the instrument, and your choice of $10 worth of player rolls from Wurlitzer's Q. R. S. stock.

ST. LOUIS ON WILD SPREE OF CRIME

St. Louis, April 21.—St. Louis has been on a wild spree of crime for three months.

Chief of Detective Mannigan and other police heads declared the crime orgy had got beyond proportion with former years and to date shows no tendency to decline.

Mass meetings of citizens to enact protective measures have been held as a means of staying the criminal wave. Police have patrolled the streets for the last weeks with automobiles, officers being armed with riot guns.

St. Louis has averaged one murder a day for three months. Added to this more than a score of holdups in which large sums were secured have been staged.

Conditions following the war resulting in unemployment and a general unrest have been responsible for the crime wave. Chief Mannigan declared.

Island of Corfu. a time history antedating that of Athens. According to tradition this was the land of the Phaeacians, and here Ulysses landed in the course of his wanderings, and on this seashore that delightful story had its setting, which Homer tells, of how the hero received much-needed hospitality and kindness at the hands of Nausicaa, the daughter of King Alcinous—perhaps the most beautiful episode in the "Odyssey." Indeed, to this day two islands close to the shores of Corfu dispute the honor of being the ship of Ulysses turned into stone.

London Free From Floods. London, owing to its wise embankment schemes, is free from the peril of floods, which annually menace Paris. But it was not always so. Stow tells many woeful tales of floods, when "men did row wherries in the midst of Westminster hall" and great numbers of folk were drowned. The historian also notes, however, that the floods had minor compensations, since after such tides one could "take had-docks by your hand as they float aloft on the waves."

MEN AND WOMEN
INVITED TO CLUB
MEETING WEDNESDAY

Much interest is being manifested by local people in the meeting to be held in the rooms of the Xenia Business Men's Association Wednesday evening at which time Francis Turrell, who has just returned from France, will make an address.

Both men and women are invited to this meeting, which, following the address of Mr. Turrell, will take the form of an open discussion of the street paving question. City Manager Kenyon Riddle will lead the discussion of the question and present the facts to the people.

The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the assembly room on the third floor. Mr. Turrell's address is expected to feature the program as he was in France for many months and has an interesting tale to unwind for the benefit of the audience.

BLOW THREE SAFES

Cincinnati, April 21—Five masked burglars blew three safes in the store of the Burkhardt Brothers Company, and took all Saturday's receipts away from them today.

They used $2,000 worth of spring suits to deaden the explosion.

IN THE SPRING
When Energy and Vitality are Lowest, then—Influenza!

(By S. C. BOWER, M. D.)

At this time of the year people feel weak, listless, their blood is thin, they have lived indoors and perhaps expended a great deal of mental and bodily energy and want to know how to renew their energy and stamina, overcome headaches and backaches, have clear eyes, a smooth ruddy skin and feel the exhilaration of good health tingling thru their bodies. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against all kinds of ailments. You are apt to suffer from an attack of influenza if your health is run down.

Purify the blood and you can defy influenza. This is the time to clean house and freshen up a bit.

Drink hot water a half hour before meals, and for a vegetable tonic there's nothing better than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the old-fashioned herbal remedy, which has had such a fine reputation for fifty years. It contains no alcohol or narcotics and is made into tablets and liquid. Send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. for trial package.

Painesville, Ohio—"For bronchial affections there is no medicine I have ever known that can equal Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I first used it in my home more than 25 years ago.

"I never hesitated in giving it to my children and I would use that in preference to any other medicine when they caught colds or had bronchial coughs. 'Golden Medical Discovery' always gave prompt relief and I highly recommend it."—Mrs. Minnie Sprague, 100 Prospect St.

EASTER WEATHER
CHANGES FROM BRIGHT
SUNSHINE TO RAIN

If there is anything in the old tradition that it will rain for seven Sundays if it rains on Easter, people of this vicinity will be cursing the weather for a long time yet.

While Easter Sunday started out with some aspirations to be a bright day and to show consideration for the Easter bonnets and gay attire of the job late in the evening and a shower drove pedestrians from the streets. Intermittent rains saw the passing of the Easter Day but Easter Monday awakened bright with the rays of an unclouded sun.

Fortunately however, the rain held off until late enough in the afternoon to permit the promenade of the Easter parade to go unhindered, until everyone had quite walked themselves out anyway.

ENLISTS IN AIR SERVICE FOR YEAR

Sergeant J. Arthur Alexander of Yellow Springs, who has been located at Camp Sherman since last September, has enlisted for a year's service in the Aviation Corps and had his first flight at the camp Saturday. Sergeant Alexander was first Sergeant in the 9th Co., 3rd Training Battalion, and he held the same position in the 6th Co., 2nd Training Battalion, when he was transferred there after the former outfit was disbanded. He enlisted at the Aviation Recruiting office at the camp and took his flight in a machine at the camp in which recruits are taken trial trips.

LEBANON SOLDIERS
STOP IN XENIA

Co. E, men of the old Fourth Ohio, now the 147th Regiment of the 37th Division, all of whom were recruited from Lebanon, passed through this city Saturday afternoon on their way to Lebanon to participate in a celebration there Saturday night.

Lebanon citizens furnished machines which they sent to Camp Sherman and in which they brought back about fifty of the discharged soldiers. When several of the machines had trouble in this city the entire convoy loafed around Xenia for sometime before continuing on its journey to Lebanon.

After the "Flu"
—Fever or Cold

Clean the Acidity and Toxic Poisons
Out of the Digestive Tract

Millions are now suffering from the after effects of the deadly "flu," a fever or a cold. Their appetites are poor; they are weak, and they are waiting for their strength to come back.

If these people could only realize that the return to health and strength would be greatly helped by giving attention to the stomach—that is, removing the acidity and toxic poisons from the entire digestive tract, making it act naturally, so that the body will receive the full strength of the food eaten—a great deal of suffering would be saved to humanity.

Everyone knows that the disease itself, and the strong medicines that have been taken, upset the stomach, leave it hot and feverish, the mouth dry, the tongue coated, a nasty taste, and no desire to eat. This is a poor foundation to build new strength on.

Now, tens of thousands of people all over this country are using EATONIC for the purpose of cleaning these poisonous after-effects right out of the system and they are obtaining wonderful results—so wonderful that the amazingly quick benefits are hardly believable, just as shown in the remarkable letter which is published upon the request of this sturdy old Civil War veteran. He is 77 years old. Read what he says EATONIC did for him:

"I am an old soldier, past seventy-seven years. I had the Spanish influenza and it left my stomach in an awful shape. I tried three different doctors but got no relief. As a last resort I sent and got a box of EATONIC and to my greatest surprise the very first tablet I took helped me. I can now eat anything I want, and feel fine."

Yours faithfully,
Fowler, Indiana
Dec. 4, 1918 C. S. Martin

P. S.: If you can make any use of this letter for suffering humanity, you are at liberty to do so. C. S. M.

This is only one case out of thousands. You should make the EATONIC test in your own case at once. You have everything to gain—not a penny can you lose, for we take all the risk. Your own common sense, your own feelings, tell you that a good appetite, good digestion, a good stomach, with the fever poisons and effects of strong medicines out of your system, will put you on the road to strong, robust health again.

You want to enjoy life again after you have battled with the "flu," fever or colds, or any other illness that has taken your strength. You want to get back your old-time vigor, be full of pep and enthusiasm—be able to work with ease, instead of listlessly, half-heartedly dragging out a mere existence.

So be sure to take a box of EATONIC home with you today. We cannot urge this too strongly. If EATONIC fails to give you positive beneficial results, it will not cost you a penny. There is no risk—the benefit is surely all for you.

EATONIC
FOR YOUR ACID-STOMACH

NOTE—Over 20,000 drug stores throughout the United States sell and guarantee EATONIC. If you cannot obtain EATONIC quickly at your drug store, do not be without it. Write us and we will mail you a big 50c box at once and you can send us the 50c after you get it. Address: EATONIC REMEDY CO., 1044 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

High School
Notes

Mr. Thornburg, secretary of Ohio Wesleyan Alumni talked to on of Mr. Simpson's Civics classes. He has a wonderfully attractive personality. Mr. Thornburg has been traveling four years for his "Alma Mater." He encouraged the college spirit and tried to enthrone the seniors to catch the Wesleyan spirit. A college education he said, "develops personality, builds character and prepares the student for leadership. In a smaller college one has the advantage of personal contact with the student body and faculty which knocks off the rough corners." When the "Who's Who in America," was compiled a year or two ago it was found that O. W. U. ranked ninth among the colleges of the United States, there being six hundred colleges in all. The Glee Club Saturday night had a good audience and the Sophomores were well pleased with the amount they made.

Helen Arnold, East Hi. Columbus, and Nell Sellers, Steele Hi. Dayton, were visitors at X. H. S. Friday afternoon.

Katherine Hollencamp and Frank Short will speak at Commencement, receiving the highest grades in the class of 1919. Earl Hartsock and Julia Wolf were selected by the class and there are two speakers left to be selected by the faculty.

Turning the Joke.

Now and then we meet men who are happiest when hitting some one a hard rap over the knuckles. These are the men that wither right up when you get a good joke on them. And have you not noticed that such men are most always in trouble because somebody has said mean things about them? How slow we are to learn that maple syrup beats vinegar all to pieces as an attraction for honey bees!

PROF. D. M. BARNES
HAS BEEN RE-ELECTED

At a joint meeting of the Boards of Education of Xenia, Sugar Creek and Spring Valley townships, Supervisory District No. Four, held in the Clerks Office, Xenia, last Saturday afternoon, Prof. D. H. Barnes was unanimously reelected District Superintendent of schools.

It was stated in the meeting that as an educator Prof. Barnes has a vision, and that he is looked upon as a most earnest and progressive school man.

His unanimous reelection is an expression of appreciation of real service rendered.

New School's Snap Judgment.

A number of years ago when a Boston paper asked leading authors of this country and England to name the best poem in the English language, James Whitcomb Riley chose Longfellow's "The Bridge." He found in it every element necessary to a perfect poem. Most of the other writers said there could not be any "best" and declined to make a selection. The new school of rhymeless and rhythmless verse writers have ruled Longfellow and Tennyson out as "artificial" and second rate.—Exchange.

when you returned from school just as the bread was coming from the oven, don't you remember how you begged for a piece, and mother, from the goodness of her heart, cut a loaf, buttered a slice and piled it high with preserves. My how good that was.

KRUG'S BREAD
BUTTER NUT or HOLSUM

now takes the place of mother's bread of former days, and buddy and sister enjoy that generous slice, spread with butter and preserves, more than you did in childhood days. Why—because the Krug Standard of Quality surpasses that of the loaf baked at home. Mother is saved all of that back-breaking labor, she is happier and has time for more important duties, because she orders Krug's Bread fresh daily from her grocer.

The Junior Client

By WALTER JOSEPH DELANEY

(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

It was summer dullness in the law courts and I was toiling in a chair at the office window, trying to decide upon a brief vacation away from the dust and din of the city. I had been in practice for a year and had done moderately well in a money way. I turned from my idle survey of the street as I heard a footstep in the hall outside. A lad of about fourteen stood reading the inscription on my door: "Robert Lane, Attorney at Law."

"If you please, sir," he said, advancing timidly, "are you Mr. Lane?"

"That's my name," I replied, noticing that the boy was very pale and seemed laboring under some unusual strain of agitation.

"Then I would like to ask your advice," I have just been discharged from employment. They accuse me of something I never did—stealing. They paid me and I have ten dollars in my pocket. How much of it would you tell me what I am to do?"

His eyes were fearless, his attire neat, his whole presentation that of an intelligent and honest youth. I noted how much he tried to control the quivering lip and maintain the open manliness that seemed natural to him.

"We won't talk of a fee, my lad, at this stage of the case," I said. "What is the trouble?"

Briefly he told me. He was Hal Barton, and had been working for two months in the wholesale jewelry establishment of Morse & Co. For some time past it was current talk that the house was missing various articles from their stock. They had made a search of the desks of the various employees. In his own, they claimed, they had found a watch and chain done up in a handkerchief.

"I never saw it before, and the handkerchief was not mine," explained the lad. "The manager was cross and obdurate. He simply told me to draw my pay and leave. I think it very unjust. It spoils my chances of other work, and if my sister Inez doubts my innocence it will break my heart. Won't you help me with your advice?"

I rather greeted this sensational break upon my loneliness as a panacea for ennui and proceeded promptly to interrogate my youthful client. At the end of half an hour I was fully convinced that Hal Barton was just what he purported to be and a victim of untoward circumstances. He was adverse to going home with his doleful story. He and his sister, Inez, were orphans, both working for a living, and I discerned that the lad had been brought up in the right way. I determined on immediate action. I went promptly to the store of Morse & Co. and was soon closeted with the manager.

The latter admitted that he had acted rather harshly with Hal, but put up the plaint that their mysterious losses were becoming an item that was serious. He showed me Hal's desk and the watch and chain and the handkerchief. He stared at me strangely as I asked permission to retain the latter article.

"Going to do some detective work?" he inquired.

"I am, if it will prove the innocence of a lad you have wronged," I answered gravely. "I ask a week to act in that capacity, but at no charge to you."

Then I went back to the office and offered to go home with Hal. He was overjoyed at the proffer. We found his sister working on a dress. The first glimpse I had of that lovely, ingenuous face a new interest came into the case for me. I told my story and that of Hal. Not for an instant did Inez Barton doubt the innocence of her brother, and both seemed relieved and glad that I extended my friendly aid. I asked Hal to call at my office the next morning.

"Do you recall anyone with Morse & Co. who is given to the use of perjury?" I asked Hal. "—a man, for this is a man's handkerchief. And his name, according to the initial, begins with 'C'?"

"C? Ca-r-r-Carr! Oh, Mr. Lane," instantly cried Hal, "he is my inventory clerk. He wouldn't steal!"

"I didn't say that he would, Hal," I replied. "The handkerchief suggests him, though, it seems. Never mind—forget that. Tell your sister I will report progress in a day or two," and my mind as full of Inez as of my self-imposed mission, I took up the trail of Walter Carr forthwith, learning from Hal sufficient of his routine to map out my plan of action.

I brought joy and relief to the humble Barton home the last day of that week. With eyes bedewed with grateful tears Inez Barton listened to my story. It was a simple one. Every day Walter Carr went for his lunch to the same restaurant. Every day he was met by a young man. Every day they hung their hats on the same hooks, and one day I noticed that when the meal was finished Carr took the hat of his confere, both of the same size and make, and another day I managed to make off with the Carr hat, and nesting under its inner band were two fine gold chains.

It was not at all easy to forget the Bartons. After the complete vindication of Hal and the recovering of a large amount of plunder from Carr's accomplice, I remembered them so well that I continued my visits to their pleasant home, and in June Inez was all my own.

MOTOR AIDS

The inside of copper wire of the sort used for battery connections frequently corrodes until it is completely eaten through, when it parts and a short circuit results. This trouble is caused by the sulphuric acid gas in the cells, accentuated by the damp air about the battery. If the wires are coated at and around the terminals with grease, the copper will be effectively protected from the acid fumes.

On certain makes of engines a broken valve cover plate stud will cause a leakage of oil that may escape attention for a long time. In many cases where the valve mechanism is oiled by spray from the crank case, the gasketed valve cover plates prevent oil leakage while the engine is running. But if one of the studs break, or a wing nut becomes loose, the cover plate also loosens and the oil works its way out.

Many drivers do not know how to take the bumps easily. A good way is to throw out the clutch and apply the foot brake gradually. This relieves the shock so that many times it may not be noted by those riding.

A very satisfactory foot rest or accelerator extension may be made from an ordinary strap hinge. One-half of the hinge is fastened to the floor boards. All that is necessary to operate the accelerator is a slight pressure on any part of the free half of the hinge.

Salt and the Human System.

A small amount of salt may be used for seasoning, but most people use a great deal too much. It is not necessary to eat salt, as many suppose. The case of one man is recorded who ate no salt on his food for fifteen years and enjoyed good health. The system needs only small amounts of sodium and chlorine. If a normal amount of vegetables and fruits are eaten, the proper quantities of these elements will be supplied. When salt is first omitted from the diet, the foods will taste flat, but after a time their natural flavors will be enjoyed more than ever before. A small amount of salt may be used on cereals, potatoes and celery, as the two latter articles contain relatively large amounts of potassium, which tends to increase the elimination of sodium from the system. —Boston Globe.

MANY DISCHARGED MEN RE-ENLIST IN THE REGULAR ARMY

Camp Sherman, Ohio, April 21.—An average of 100 soldiers in temporary service are enlisting each day in the regular army at Camp Sherman, according to figures given out by the recruiting officer. More than 500 soldiers have volunteered for regular army service in periods of from one to three years.

Meetings are held each day in the various assembly halls throughout the camp and each organization in the big cantonment is scheduled to attend one of these meetings.

A great many soldiers, especially those who did not get to France during the war, are anxious for foreign service with the 50,000 regulars soon to go over seas. The soldiers sign up at the meetings, go immediately before the medical examining board and in 48 hours, if accepted, are enroute home on a 30-day furlough. Every man who enlists gets a $60 bonus and the month furlough.

THEATERS

In Norman Dalrymple, "Dimples" to his friends, Rex Beach has created one of his most fascinating story heroes, and readers of the story "Too Fat to Fight," which appeared in a recent issue of the Cosmopolitan will be delighted to know that it has been screened by Goldwyn and will appear at the Bijou Theater Tuesday with Frank McIntyre in the leading role.

Goldwyn is doing justice to its own success in acquiring the picture by arranging for big, fat and jolly Frank McIntyre to play the lead, and it is said that the story even gains in the telling in the film form. The story is one of the best of the many concerning the world war and McIntyre makes a decided hit. Florence Dixon plays opposite him.

ORPHNUM.

The undying Blackwell-Greeley combination is occupying the limelight again this popular pair Carlyle Blackwell and Evelyn Greeley, appearing in a six reel World release "The Road to France."

The story offers quite a splendid and timely vehicle for these popular stars, who are merely the brightest shining lights in a cast that includes Jack Drummer, Muriel Ostriche, George DeCarlon, Jane Sterling, Richard Neill, Inez Shannon and others. The picture tells a big story in a big way and does not neglect the romance that is ever present.

JOINT CHOIRS RENDER SPLENDID EASTER CONCERT

Choirs of Trinity and the First Methodist, Episcopal churches, united Sunday night, in rendering under the leadership of Mrs. William H. Gervay, the cantata "The Easter Hallelujah," by Heyser. The church was thronged for the inspiring service.

Forty voices comprised the choir, and the chorus singing was magnificent. There were only a few solos and they were taken very beautifully by well known local singers. Miss Henrietta Logan took the soprano solos, and her beautiful voice was never more pleasing. The bass solo parts were all sung by Hugh Turnbull of Cedarville. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson sang a duet. The choir had a processional into the church.

Curtis Geyer, who was recently discharged from the army, after service abroad, gave a very fine address, dealing with the modern situation which the church at large must face following the war.

The morning Easter service at the First Church was marked by special features. The title cards were signed and twelve persons received into the church. The pastor, Rev. A. J. Kestle preached on the Easter theme.

Trinity church had special services in the forenoon, and the attendance at church and Sunday School was the largest it has been for some time. There were twelve baptisms and fifteen receptions in the church. The service opening with the baptism of infants. The pastor Rev. H. J. Jewett preached on the theme "Redemption" from "Fear Ye Not." The choir sang an Easter anthem. Lilies and ferns decked the church, and there was a vase of water lilies on the altar, which had been brought from Florida by Dr. and Mrs. D. E. Spahr.

EAST END NEWS

Mrs. Earl Foster is visiting relatives in Columbus.

Mrs. Victoria Lane was called to Akron on account of the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Niagara Archer. Mrs. Lane left Sunday night at 11:07. Mrs. Archer has been sick for some time with heart trouble and dropsy.

Mr. Edward Page, sr., and his sister Mrs. Lula Harris, spent last week in Cleveland visiting their brother-in-law who has been ill in the hospital there for quite a while. Mrs. Harris started on her return trip home last night. She lives in Seattle, Washington, and went by the way of California.

Mr. James A. Rogers visited his brother, W. S. Rogers, Sunday. He was called here to fill the station of prelate in the Knight Templar services yesterday.

Mr. Henry Bowen, of Nogales, Ariz., is visiting his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Bowen, and his daughter, Miss Lizzie Bowen. He is off on a thirty days' furlough as a Sergeant in the 25th Regiment, U. S. Army, and will spend three weeks here.

The Knight Templar services at St. John's A. M. E. church Sunday afternoon were very largely attended. Visiting Knights were here from Cleveland, Dayton, Springfield and Troy. The Knights from Springfield brought along a band which added very much to the occasion. The ritualistic services were very instructive, inspiring and religious. Rev. P. A. Nichols preached a fine discourse. The choir sang very sweetly.

St. John's A. M. E. church choir rendered the Sacred Cantata, "Life Everlasting" last night. The church was crowded to hear them. The choir ably sustained their reputation for good playing and singing.

Mr. John Wesley Arnold, of Wilberforce University, will give a song recital at the Third Baptist church, on Thursday evening, May 8th, under the auspices of the sinking fund club. Mr. Arnold is an artist of great ability, and it goes without saying, that a large audience will take the advantage of hearing him. Keep the date before you. Thursday evening, May the 8th.

Next Lord's Day will be rally day at the Third Baptist church for the Trustees, and we are asking every member to bring or send one dollar. Let each member feel that it is his or her duty to bear a proportionate share of the financial burdens of the church, and to impose on others what they are not willing to share. So the trustees will be on the lookout for your offering next Sabbath.

EASTER SUNDAY IS FITTINGLY OBSERVED AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The Easter Sunday was most fittingly observed at the First Baptist church. A very beautiful exercise was given by the children at the Sunday school hour to a congregation that completely filled the room. Miss Dillencourt illustrated the Easter message by descriptions of nature scenes. The attendance both at the school and service was the largest during the year.

The full advertised program was splendidly rendered by the large choir, and the rostrum was very beautifully decorated with palms, lilies, shrubs and cut flowers. Every appointment on the program was filled; the singers entered heartily and sympathetically into the sentiment and teaching of Easter Day, and the heartening message was conveyed by solos, duets and anthems to a gratified congregation. At the close of the service, in answer to an appeal from the pastor, the congregation gave an offering of $294 beyond the regular offering, for incidental expenses.
